

Francesco Ripanti

Experienced Researcher (ER)

Francesco Ripanti is an Experienced Researcher focusing his research on Preservation and Use and Reuse. Thanks to a PhD in Public Archaeology obtained from the University of Pisa, he has a very interdisciplinary profile that covers several topics related to the interaction with the public in the archaeological and museum sectors. Among them: public participation, communication, outreach, user experience, evaluation based on qualitative analysis, citizen science and storytelling.