The 2021 EUA Annual Conference “Universities 2030: From vision to reality”, presents an immersive online event platform on 22 - 23 April 2021. The conference highlights the need for debate about the path universities must take to remain resilient and relevant against the backdrop of climate change, technological advances, fluctuating labour markets and political pressure.

ELIA President, Andrea Braidt will speak on ‘Universities as places of culture: Luxury or necessity?’ on **23 April 2021, at 10:30 CEST****.

The event is of interest to university leadership and management, as well as academics. It also welcomes students, policy makers and other stakeholders in higher education, research and innovation.

Various registration packages are available to guarantee that the event is accessible for all participants, with a reduced fee for EUA members.

Registrations are now open until the start of the event. Register to gain exclusive access to all live sessions with high-level presenters, networking opportunities, project booths, webinar recordings, and more! For questions about the event, please contact EUA at Annual-Conference@eua.eu.
